NEWSLETTER OF SAN DIEGO ORBITEERS FREE FLIGHT CLUB

October 2025

Chairman's Corner – Mark Chomyn

It's October, the frost is on the pumpkin and Halloween is only a few weeks away (even though Halloween stuff has been in CVS since July). Knowing model builders, I was sure that some model builder would have designed a Halloween themed model aircraft. I was right. I found this neat little flying witch named the Witch Craft designed by Frank Scott in 1972. Originally designed for a Cox .049 this version looks like it's been updated with an electric motor and some RC control. I do believe that aircraft modelers have probably developed a plane for every one of our holidays. Finding a model plane design for each holiday might make an interesting research project. Could be made into a book. Who knows?

We continue to hold our indoor contests at Los Coches Middle School in El Cajon. The most recent was On October 5th. Unfortunately, I can't offer any insights on how the contest went as I was visiting family on the east coast and missed it. To all those who attended I hope you had a great time and put up some high flight scores. Keep your eyes on your email inbox for the next indoor contest announcement.

Our outdoor contest schedule is still on hold. A yearly lease for use of the Perris field for model aviation has been developed. The terms of that lease will require the payment of a yearly lease fee that would be shared by each flying club that accepts the terms of the lease and then contributes to their portion of the yearly lease cost. Our club has asked for a copy of the lease so we can review its terms and conditions. We will keep you apprised of the progress.

Though Orbiteers monthlies are on hold there are still free flight events that fliers can attend to keep active. I received an email from Roger Willis announcing that the Cactus Flyers will hold a contest on Wednesday, October 15 from 8AM to 11AM. I believe the flying site will be Taibi Field in Perris. Events will be Fiction Flyer, Jet Catapult and Honeybee. Other events on the horizon include the Orbiteers/Fresno Dual Club on November 7-9 in Lost Hills and WESTFAC 2025, October 23-25 Rovey Farms, Buckeye AZ. For those who attend the contests, may the thermals be with you.

That about does it for this month. Don't forget to stock up on goodies for the Trick or Treaters. Hope you all have a Happy Halloween.

Mark

Storing and Transporting Model Airplanes

By Mike Jester

I usually spend at least 20 hours building each of my free flight models from a kit or from scratch. Then I spend more time hopefully trimming them to fly well. With so much time invested, I want to store my completed models safely in my garage and when transporting them to a flying field. For the past 10-15 years I have stored and transported my outdoor model airplanes in IRIS® brand transparent plastic boxes meant for storing rolls of gift wrapping paper. They measure 33 7/8-inches x 12-inches x 6 1/4 inches. These boxes have indented lids so that they stack and nest securely one above the other. Each box can carry up to five models but the wings and tail feathers on each of my larger outdoor models need to be removable. My models with large wingspans that exceed the length of this type of box are separable into two sections. I use these boxes to store and transport Mulvihill, Coupe, P-30, P-20, E-36, EP30, FAC Rubber Scale, OTR, and Embryo models. They are well protected when transported. Stan Buddenbohm taught me to randomly put lightweight plastic grocery bags between the fuselages, props, wings, etc. to provide protective cushioning and so that these components don't slide around when driving to a contest. When I started buying these plastic boxes, they only cost about $6-7 dollars each. However, now they cost about $25 each even though according to the federal government there has been mild inflation for the most part over the past 10-15 years. Go figure!

I am happy to report that my gift wrapping paper boxes have given me a clean record of no models being damaged during storage or transport. Not shown in the above picture are tie down strings and bungey cords that I have added to prevent the boxes from falling off the shelves in my garage due to earthquakes! I really should get rid of some of my older models that I no longer fly, or that have been damaged and never repaired. It seems like everyone has a different way to store and transport their model airplanes. The following pictures show some alternate model airplane storage and transport systems employed by other fliers.

RETURN TO INDOOR FLYING --- Don Bartick

October 5th marked the 4th time that we have flown Indoors at the Los Coches Creek Middle School gym. The 2 competitions were Phantom Flash and Catapult Glider.

Six flyers registered and 5 entered the events. 5 in Phantom Flash and 4 in Embryo. The best of 6 official attempts was scored and added together. The results were:

Phantom Flash

1 st Greg Hutchison	256 seconds
2 nd Walter Ainslie	170 seconds
3 rd Don Bartick	114 seconds

Catapult Glider

1 st David Wade	71 seconds
2 nd Don Bartick	59 seconds
3 rd Greg Hutchison	50 seconds

John Alling →

Once again, we fell short on attendance. Having only 6 participants did not come close to the rental fee. The gym is the best venue we have ever had. With a 27-foot ceiling to the center girder. Higher if you fly above the wooden girders. Some successfully do. It makes indoor flying a joy. So, everyone reading this report, please try indoor or return to indoor. The weather is great and the chases are very, very short.

Next Indoor is scheduled for December 7th for 4 hours-8am to noon. The cost to participate is $30. Competition events are $3 each. Events will be Unlimited Penny Plane and No-Cal. Of course, bring whatever you have to fun fly.

WE NEED MORE PARTICPANTS. We can't sustain renting this great venue without more participants. Please consider Indoor Free Flight. It's really a fun version of Free Flight.

Up-up and away!

Don
